A Flexible Spending Account (FSA) is a special type of savings account that you can use to pay for qualified expenses. You can contribute to your FSA through payroll deductions. The money in your FSA is yours to use for qualified expenses. You can use your FSA dollars to pay for a wide range of expenses, including medical, dental, and vision expenses. You can also use your FSA dollars to pay for certain dependent care expenses. For more information, visit www.wageworks.com.

There are two types of FSAs: Health FSAs and Dependent Care FSAs. Health FSAs are used to pay for qualified medical, dental, and vision expenses. Dependent Care FSAs are used to pay for qualified dependent care expenses. For more information, visit www.wageworks.com.
