

COLLEGE
SCHOOL EVENT

THE WINSTON CENTER FOR LEADERSHIP AND ETHICS

BOSTON COLLEGE
CARROLL SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

AND LOOKING AHEAD

In the last year, our speakers brought really interesting and diverse topics to campus, which has been particularly helpful in our efforts to address the needs of our students. We have had the pleasure to learn from our off-campus and beyond. From Joanne Riley's somewhat controversial Secretive and Life on the Edge, to consider public service, to a portrait of the real-life characters in her play How to Succeed in Business Without Really Knowing It, which depicts social injustice.

We are incredibly excited about our lineup of speakers for next spring. The Chambers lecture will feature author Piper Kerman, whose bestselling memoir Orange is the New Black was adapted into a Netflix must-watch series. Kerman's title will focus on the US criminal justice system. Another former prime minister of Denmark, Mette Frederiksen, will be the featured speaker. She will talk about the challenges and opportunities. We will also have the honor of hosting a lecture where former border patrol agent Francisco Cantu will talk about his professional experience, which he wrote about in his memoir The Line: A Border Patrol Agent's Story. The Proper Symposium will feature Faith Gleason, author of Brothering, who will talk about how this generation of students are navigating the challenges in the workplace.

The Winston Center will be forever indebted to our founding director, Dick Keeley, whose direction got the Center to where we are today—bringing the Boston College community together. I look forward to continuing Dick's work while forging new perspectives and direction to the Winston Center. Our young men and women will continue to be a source of inspiration and a source of pride for our community.

Monetta Edwards, Director

FAREWELL TO DICK KEELEY

In June, we b , Dick
 . Keeley, whose guidance and vision helped shape the Winter Center's mission and our ensuing work, will be fondly remembered in the ~~not~~ of ceremonies for his eloquent and warm remarks that welcomed s lectures.

STUDENT PROGRAMS

Lunch with a

The spring LWL session featured C. Coles', partner at law firm Vanbarton Group LLC, who talked about maintaining a good work-life balance.

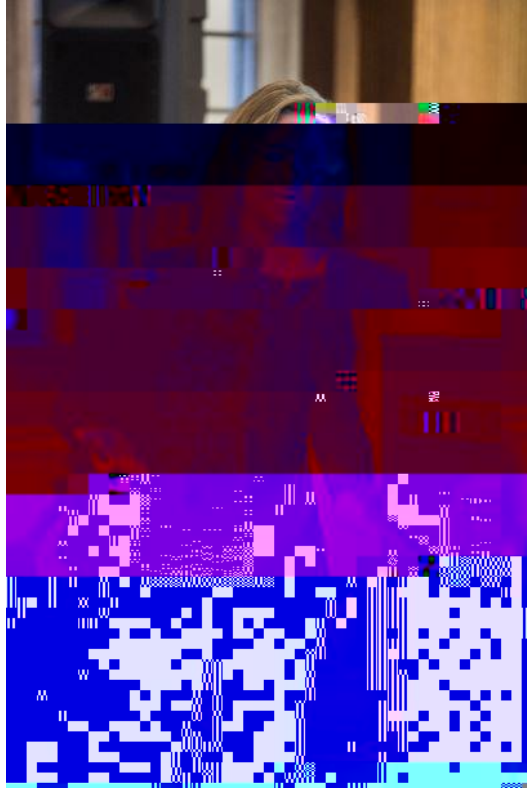

The fall LWL session featured Ingrid Cameron's, executive vice president of the Global People Division for Walmart Inc; Jonathan Gordon, regional director at Wells Fargo Capital Management; [redacted] Worme, Inc. managing director at Microsoft.

Anne Wargo; and Trish Walker '88, president of services for Best Buy Co., Inc.

This fall Brian C. Coles, director of [redacted], was the inaugural Ethics & Lunch series speaker. He discussed how Facebook is dealing with ongoing privacy concerns and its position on [redacted].

STUDENT PROGRAMS CONT'D

The Passion Summit

Winston Ambassadors are a group of co-leaders who take students to the combined Winston Ambassadors who take links, classes and the Winston Ambassadors about finding passion and courage in everything they do.

Winston Ambassadors led a not only campaign at the fall student involvement initiative for the campaign was inspired by spring Open Up! Take a Stand for Power, who encouraged students to reach out to the community

Winston Ambassador Roshan Taroll '21

STUDENT GRANTS

Six level grants were awarded to

Dominican Republic; Beirut,

and Paris, France,

areas of public health,

vocacy, language, environmental ad

enterprise. Eleven

summer internships at the White House, Norfolk (MA) District

Attorney's Office, US State

Department, Massachusetts

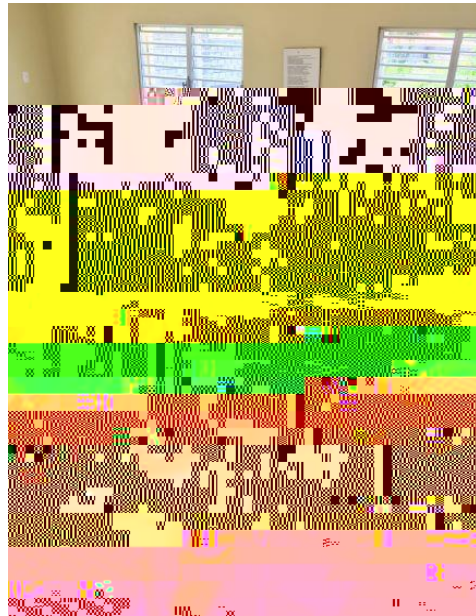

Government Office, Boston

Children's Hospital, and various

non-profit organization

Social enterprise initiative in Bolivia

School in the Dominican Republic for girls

FACULTY GRANTS

Grants were awarded to two new, renewal classes: The History and Politics of Terrorism

Remy Crowther '99, ~~who lost his life in the World Trade Center attack~~

Crowther talked about leadership through service and the ethical dimensions of citizenship and global justice. Where

African Diaspora class, the Tillet sisters, Scheherazade and Salamishah, talked about surviving rape and going beyond the #MeToo movement.

Scheherazade and Dr. Salamishah Tillet

E-mail: winston.center@bc.edu
winstoncenter.com

Tel: 617-552-9296